VOTE ON CONSTITUTION AMENDMENT TO PROHIBIT SALE AND MANUFACTURE OF LIQUOR CAUSES BITTER STRUGGLE.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Dallas, Texas, July 22.—With heavy rains falling over many of the dry strongholds in the northern portion of the state and fair weather prevailing in the wet country farther south, the voters of Texas are today deciding the question of state-wide prohibition. Despite the bad weather in many towns and cities in the northern portion, however, a record-breaking vote is being noted.

The vote is on a constitutional amendment to prohibit both the sale and manufacture of liquor. At the anti-state wide prohibition headquarters in Houston, State Chairman Winters claims the state will go wet by 100,000. State Chairman Hall, of the prohibitionists, is confident of an equally large majority for prohibition.

At Lockhart, in the central portion of the state, Richard Bragg, a negro, was shot and seriously wounded early today after returning from a political rally for negroes.

The election roll was reported early from Paris, in north Texas, where two prominent men of opposing factions turned their umbrellas into weapons and painfully injured each other's heads.

In many places women and children have projected their influence into the campaign during the last twenty-four hours by singing and serving lunches. About 2,000 women have undertaken an all day fast to further the cause of prohibition.

(Dallas, Tex., July 22)—Governor Oscar H. Colquitt today predicted that Texas would repudiate the doctrine of statewide prohibition in the election today by a majority of 100,000 votes. Several hundred school children, who apparently did not agree with the governor in his prediction, followed him to the polls, singing "Texas going dry."

IN SPRECKLES TELLS HOW SUGAR WAR WAS SETTLED

Scrap Began Soon After Formation of Trust in 1887 and Continued Until 1891 and Was Very Fierce.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

New York, July 22.—How the war between the spreckles interests and the American Sugar Refining Company was settled and how in the end the Americans won, John E. Scarfe, noted attorney, said, was told the special committee investigating the sugar trust today by James Spreckles. The witness is president of the Federal Sugar Refining company of Yonkers and is a son of the late Charles Spreckles of California.

Mr. Scarfe said:

"The war started soon after the formation of the trust in 1887 and continued until 1891. It was very fierce."

"How did the end come?"

"I was manager of the spreckles interests in Philadelphia in 1887 when John E. Scarfe, secretary and treasurer of the Western Sugar Refining company came to me in Philadelphia and made a proposition to settle the war. He said the bitter competition had been causing us great trouble and that he could sell off part of the stock of the Philadelphia plant if I would buy its competing plant on the Pacific coast."

"What did you do?"

"I wired my father about it, and after much parlaying Scarfe went over to Canada to negotiate with my father. The result was that the Western Refining company was formed, embracing the American and Spreckles interests in a 50-50 corporation. The Americans took $2,250,000 in the capital stock and I advanced it to H. C. H. H. Theodosius Haynes and John E. Scarfe in New York. They told me they were the purchasers and not the Americans. They paid me half cash and half in short time notes, which they later paid."

"Six months later the Haynes and Scarfe, with my father, sold the total capital stock of the Western company to the Americans for $10,000,000 in preferred stock of this no. My father received $5,000,000 and the Haynes and Scarfe got the same for their interest, for which they had paid my father $2,250,000."

BIG CROWD WILL GO ON SPECIAL TRAIN TO CHAUTAUQUA

Albuquerque Day, on August 19. Promises to Be One of the Real Big Days at Mountainair.

The special train which will go from Albuquerque to Mountainair and return on August 19, carrying a big delegation of boosters to assist in making "Albuquerque day" a grand success, promises to be loaded to the axles ready. The extra-long low roof iron car of $2,850 has struck a comfortable chord with many Albuquereans who are anxious to have the American and Spreckles interests in a 50-50 corporation. The Americans took $2,250,000 in the capital stock and I advanced it to H. C. H. Theodosius Haynes and John E. Scarfe in New York. They told me they were the purchasers and not the Americans. Those who wish to go on the special train, but wish to remain in Mountainair for several days, may do so. They will be required, however, to purchase the regular excursion tickets, which will be sold at $1.15 for the round trip.

The business men of the city are taking an active interest in making the excursion a success and a number of them have indicated their intention of sending representatives on the trip for a vacation and pleasure jaunt.
